1·9·9·2 NCAA DIVISION III MEN'S BASKETBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

Outstanding Field Set for Sectional Tournament

Welcome to the Maggs Center on the campus of Salisbury State University for the Northeast/Atlantic Region Sectional tournament. The winning team will advance to the NCAA Division III Final Four in Springfield, Ohio on March 20-21.

The four teams assembled here this weekend boast a combined 93-18 record, and three of the four squads are ranked among the nation's top 12. Salisbury State finished the regular season at number two in the national poll, Jersey City State is seventh and Salem State is 12th. A closer look at each team follows:

Eastern Connecticut State University wasted no time in making its first ever tournament appearance a memorable one by upsetting the top ranked team in the Northeast Region, Babson, 69-67 last Saturday. The Warriors are currently riding a season-best seven-game winning streak. Eastern qualified for the NCAA Tournament by winning its first Little East Conference Tournament, posting a 71-64 championship game win over UMass-Dartmouth. The conference champion is awarded an automatic bid.

Sophomore center Rossie Covington, a first-team all-conference performer and the MVP of the conference tournament, leads Coach Daniel Switchenko's club in scoring (17.5), rebounding (7.0) and field-goal percentage (58.7). Sophomore guard James Hunter also averages in double figures in scoring (14.1) and leads the team in assists with 3.0/game.

Eastern Connecticut State will face Jersey City State College in Friday's first game. The Gothic Knights defeated Hunter, 81-68, to advance to the round of sixteen. Jersey City State, champion of the New Jersey Athletic Conference, brings a school-record 18-game winning streak into Friday's contest.

Senior forward Darren Watkins and sophomore forward Neil King, both first-team all-conference performers, are the leaders of a very deep team. The Gothic Knights routinely utilize a dozen players to push the tempo. Watkins is the squad's top scorer (15.6) and second leading rebounder (6.1), while King averages 14.8 points and a team-high 11.9 rebounds. Coach Charles Brown's team is outrebounding opponents by nearly 10 boards per game. Senior guard Ed Baum paced Jersey City State in its second-round win over Hunter with 22 points.

Salem State College will represent the Northeast Region in Friday's second contest. The Vikings are making their fourth straight NCAA Tournament appearance and their second straight visit to the Sweet Sixteen. Salem State, winner's of 21 straight games for the second consecutive year, defeated Western Connecticut State, 89-77, last Saturday.

Coach Jim Todd has directed his squad to 28 straight victories in the Massachusetts State College Athletic Conference, including the regular season and postseason tournament championship in each of the past two seasons. SSC has averaged 22 wins per season in each of Todd's five years at the helm.

The Vikings feature a well-balanced attack with five players in double figures scoring, led by four-time all-New England and 1992 conference Player of the Year Jim Edgehill. The senior is averaging 17.7 points/contest and eclipsed the 1,500 career point plateau earlier this season.

The tournament's host team, Salisbury State University, is enjoying the finest season in school history. The Sea Gulls, making their third overall NCAA Tournament appearance and second straight visit, defeated Kean, 107-99, last Saturday to advance to the round of 16 for the first time. SSU currently owns the nation's longest winning streak at 26 in-a-row, and came into the NCAA Tournament as champion of the Eastern States Athletic Conference for the second consecutive year. Senior forward Andre Foreman, the team's top scorer (25.5) and rebounder (11.6), was named the conference and ECAC South Region's Player of the Year. He also became the all-time Division III scoring leader last month as he topped the 2,800 career points plateau. Sophomore guard Dameon Ross compliments Foreman with 24.6 points/contest and is also tied for second on the squad in rebounds (6.5). Coach Ward Lambert, in his 22nd year, also achieved a personal milestone by winning his 300th career game last month.

About Salisbury State University

A Reputation for Excellence

"Best Buy" in Public Education. "Smiles abound as the . . . school's endowment and reputation soar," said The Baltimore Sun in a front page story. Money magazine ranked SSU a national "best buy" in public education.

Applications triple. For 11 straight years the number of applications here has increased, countering national trends. This fall the campus received over 4,000 applications for 700 openings.

SATs up 182 points. In the same time period, SAT scores rose to among the highest in Maryland's public university system. The average 1991 freshman at SSU has well over 1,000 on the SATs and a better than B average in high school.

$45 million investment in buildings and grounds. Splendid new architecture and a beautifully landscaped campus in the heart of Maryland's Eastern Shore have made us one of the Mid-Atlantic's most attractive universities.

Highest endowed four-year public comprehensive university in Maryland. SSU's $10 million plus endowment means more scholarships, student travel and research funds, and more visiting scholars and artists' programs. The University has been listed in an exclusive group of 300 schools with the largest endowments for their size.
